SUP'T OF THE ACME MILLS

Mr. Lucien C. Shellabarger Takes Interest in Big Plant.

HAD MUCH EXPERIENCE

Will Have Supervision of Both of the Mills, A. and B.

The growth of the business of the Acme Mills and Elevator Co. has made necessary another addition to the operating force and Mr. Lucien C. Shellabarger, a practical and experienced mill man of Decatur, Ill., has acquired an interest in the business and assumed the superintendency of both mills, "A" and "B."

Mr. Shellabarger has been chosen a member of the board of directors and will bring to his position an extensive experience with some of the best mills in the country. For a number of years he has been in the milling business at Decatur and previous to going there held positions in Kansas, where he acquired a thorough knowledge of the operation of flouring mills and elevators in all branches. He is well known in milling circles and will add to the influence and business of the Acme Mills and Elevator Co. by his acquaintance with the trade in the west, the output of the mills having heretofore found its way chiefly into southern markets. Mr. Shellabarger will put them in closer relations with the western elevators and thereby greatly strengthen the business of Hopkinsville's largest milling plant.

Mr. Shellabarger visited this city last winter and made a close examination of the Acme Mills, the result being that he decided to take an interest in the company. He will be an important acquisition to the social as well as the business circles of the city. His father, Mr. D. S. Shellabarger, is president of the Decatur National Bank and is prominent in the affairs of that progressive city.

There will be no change in the present officials of the Acme Mills and Elevator Co.

FESTIVAL WEEK CLOSE AT HAND

First Performance Tuesday Night By Creator's Band.

SALE OF SEATS HEAVY.

Program Will Afford Treat to All Music Loving People.

Beginning with the first performance of the May Music Festival next Tuesday night, the citizens of this region will enjoy for three days the greatest musical treat ever offered to any people. Generally the first night crowds are small in comparison with succeeding performances in events of this kind, but from the best that can be told this far ahead, the attendance next Tuesday night will be as good as at any time during the festival. On this night local society will be out in force, while the great tabernacle will be the Mecca of many people from a distance. Reservations of rooms are being freely made at all the hotels by out-of-town people, while large numbers will spend the time with relatives or friends.

The program for the opening has been arranged with the one object in view of pleasing everybody, no matter what class of music they like best. The program will open with the "Baltimore Centennial" march, followed by the overture "Orpheus." Following this will come "The Heavens are Telling" from "The Creation," sung by the adult chorus under the direction of Prof. Mayo and accompanied by Creator's band. Those who like the old time melodies which have been handed down through many generations and remain favorites until today will be delighted with the fourth number, which is entitled "Gems of Stephen Foster" and in which the following numbers will be introduced: "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "Old Dog Tray," "Ring de Banjo," "Old Kentucky Home," "Beautiful Dreamer," "Willie We Have Missed You," "Glendy Burk," "Nellie Was a Lady," and "Old Folks at Home." Then comes the intermission, following which the "Merry Widow Waltz," about which so much has been said, will be given. Then comes that ever popular intermezzo from "Calaveria Rusticana," followed by "Oh, Shepherd of Israel," and "Sleep, Little Baby of Mine," sung by the adult chorus. Mme. Barili will sing as a solo, "Se Saren Rose," and the program will be completed by "The Star Spangled Banner," by the chorus and Creator's band.

This program cannot help but give complete satisfaction to everyone who attends and the ones for the following four performances are just as good. Creator and his band are very liberal in responding to encores and the numbers listed above do not by any means indicate that this will be all.

Everybody is boosting hard for the festival. Individuals are working, the Elks are hard at it, people from a distance are interested and the outside papers are giving liberal space in exploiting the event, so a fine attendance next week is assured.

THE REVIVAL HAS CLOSED

Total Number of Additions to Church About One Hundred.

WAS A FINE MEETING.

Mr. Sellers Returns Home and Mr. Sturgis Goes to Another Revival.

The revival at the Ninth Street Church of Christ closed last night. The total number of additions to the church was yesterday 92. Some aroused in these meetings have gone into other churches. Mr. Sellers left last night for his home in Terre Haute, Indiana. Prof. Sturgis left this morning for Oden, Indiana, where he will sing and direct the chorus in a revival.

No greater meeting has ever been held in this place in a single church than this one. Rev. L. E. Sellers is a preacher of the first quality. He is thoughtful, courageous, plain, practical, vigorous and irresistible in his appeals to sinners. Prof. Sturgis is a worthy partner in the labors of the great evangelist.
